THE DU PONT CORPORATION AND WILMINGTON, DELAWARE

A major campaign, due to culminate in a demonstration in Wilmington on January 21 at the same time that the inaugural of Governor-Elect Russell W. Peterson takes place in Dover, has been mounted by a number of radical groups.

In Wilmington the main thrust of anti-administration activity is the Black United Council and one of its member groups, the Wilmington Youth Emergency Action Council (WYEAC) which in 1967-68 operated with a budget of $289,625. WYEAC was funded by the Office of Economic Opportunity in the sum of $100,000 in 1967 (however, funding was stopped in October, 1968) and is basically a coalition of negro street gangs. WYEAC was supported by a number of local church-related agencies who contributed $22,854 to the '67-'68 budget and the Greater Wilmington Development Council (GWDC), an organization financed by local industry whose contribution to the same budget was $166,771.

Supporting the Black United Council in their present protest movement is the White Coalition for Justice Without Repression (WCJWR) formed in July, 1968 for a three-fold purpose -- to remove the National Guard from the city; to secure the release of all black political prisoners, and to sever Du Pont control from community affairs. Additional support of the protest movement is provided by the Students for a Democratic Society Chapter at Newark (Del) State University and an "underground" newspaper, "The Heterodoxical Voice". (This newspaper recently researched in great detail the Du Pont corporate structure and printed this research together with comprehensive biographical details of Corporation executives.)

THE DU PONT CORPORATION AND WILMINGTON, DELAWARE

Outside the State of Delaware agitation is being led by the National Emergency Committee Against Repression in Wilmington, 1237 Vine Street, Philadelphia and People Against Racism (PAR), P.O. Box 432, Washington Bridge Station, New York 10033. PAR has an office at 853 Broadway, Room 2105 and is associated as a "front" with the Worker's World Party. PAR was first known to operate in Buffalo, New York as a part of the "Free [redacted] Campaign. [redacted] negro militant was convicted on a narcotics charge, it was claimed that this was a "political" verdict and [redacted] is currently incarcerated with his attorney [redacted] justice of the Republic of New Africa, seeking a new trial.

PAR lists two telephones, 212-533-8211, which is listed to the New Party Committee (ex Peace and Freedom Party), Room 2106, 853 Broadway, NY, and 212-246-4339, listed to [redacted] 54 West 47th St., Apt. #4. PAR also uses Room #560, 475 Riverside Drive, New York.

A second so-called "national" group involved in the planning of counter-inaugural activities in Wilmington is Communications Network Inc., of New York. (212-751-2057)*

The National Emergency Committee and PAR have both been very active in the distribution of leaflets; these have been distributed usually by SDS people in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Hartford, Washington, DC and New York. It is believed that between 25 - 30,000 leaflets have been printed and more will be handed out in Washington during the week-end January 18-20.

On Thursday, January 16, PAR held a demonstration outside Du Pont's New York offices in the Empire State Building. A group of five provided "guerrilla" theatre which was designed to bring into sharp focus "repression" in Wilmington, leaflets were distributed by eight other members of PAR to a large lunch-hour crowd and massive media coverage. When the possibility of arrests of PAR members arose, Attorney [redacted] intervened, acting on the instructions of Attorney [redacted] of the Emergency Civil-Liberties Committee (ECLC).

Following the demonstration, which was over in ten minutes, PAR returned to their assembly point, The Community Church, 40 East 35th Street and first held a press conference at which [redacted] was the spokesman and secondly a critique of their activities. There were twelve people present at the critique and with two exceptions ([redacted] first names only were used -- those included [redacted] Transportation for the group was by car, identified as [redacted]

New York PAR plan to repeat their guerrilla theatre in Wilmington, and provide an encore at the Du Pont offices at the Empire State Building on a future unspecified date. It was stated during the critique that PAR did not have a close working relationship with National Mobilization Against the War in Vietnam (MOBE) but a meeting to link up with the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs in New York would be held at the Riverside Drive address on January 23rd.
